Curricular Expectations and Learning Indicators for English at Elementary Stage

Understanding Language Learning at the Elementary Stage

Language learning progresses naturally with exposure to meaningful contexts. As we understand, children are born with an innate ability to learn languages and develop their language proficiency through interactions with others. They can learn more than one language at a time. The same applies to second language learning as well. If we look around, we would find that English is being used for varied day-to-day functional purposes and is also used along with our first language/regional language e.g. on signboards, advertisements, media etc. Therefore, we can say that English is very much a part of our multilingual environment.

In our schools, English is taught and learnt as second language (also known as L2). The purpose of English Learning is to enrich multilingualism among children and to allow diverse languages to flourish in each other’s company. Therefore, English is learnt best if it is learnt along with and not at the cost of other languages. Teaching-learning of English, therefore, needs to be flexible in such a way that children use their first language along with second language to express themselves wherever needed. The teacher can also use the first language to provide background information and then move on to read the lesson with children in English. Another important aspect is to provide children with an input rich communicational environment to facilitate language learning. These inputs can be in the form of textbooks, story books, magazines, newspapers, audio/video material, children chosen texts etc. as per the interest, age and cognitive level of the children. All modalities like visual, auditory and kinesthetic can be used in the pedagogic process.

Language learning is acquiring the skills of listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking in an integrated manner. Language learning becomes meaningful when it is connected with the immediate environment of the children. The activities need to be linked to life outside. Language learning does not necessarily take place only in the language classroom. Mathematics or an EVS class is first a language class then a subject class. Therefore, it is not necessary that all the activities conducted in the English class can be based on the English textbooks; textual material from EVS or Mathematics textbooks can very well be selected for organising and conducting activities and assessing children’s language skills in any class.

Curricular Expectations

Broadly, the goals of language learning are:

- attainment of basic proficiency in language for effective communication and
- development of language for knowledge acquisition.

Knowledge and skills in themselves do not guarantee understanding. Understanding based on the theory of constructivism says that understanding something is a matter of being able to carry out a variety of performances related to the topic.
Language curriculum broadly has 3 domains
1. Language, knowledge & comprehension
2. Attitude, values (sensitize the children to their environment)
3. Dimensions (skills)

Language and knowledge
Language is not only a means of communication, it is also a medium through which most of our knowledge is acquired. Language helps us understand the reality around us and it should enhance language proficiency and sensitivity to the world around us for formal as well as informal communication.

Attitudes
Attitudes and motivation of children and teachers play an important role in all learning, including language learning. When the teacher is positively inclined towards children of diverse needs, linguistic, ethnic and socio-cultural backgrounds, children will also tend to get positively motivated and involved in the teaching learning processes. It is extremely important that teachers begin to appreciate the fact that all languages represented in their multilingual classrooms are equally scientific and should receive equal respect from the teacher and the children. The teacher should also begin to use the multilingual classroom as a resource because languages flourish in each other’s company. Teachers need to construct a range of attractive opportunities through which diverse learners with diverse backgrounds may be encouraged to engage effectively with classroom activities.

Dimensions/skills
Under dimensions we have receptive and productive skills. Listening and reading are receptive skills, whereas speaking and writing are productive skills. The objective is to develop these skills in a holistic manner.
The development of linguistic proficiency in children is needed for the spontaneous and appropriate use of language in different situations.
The curriculum expectations to ensure that all children are able to -

- listen, understand, and also employ non-verbal clues to make connections and draw inferences.
- read with comprehension and pleasure, draw inferences and relate texts to previous knowledge; read critically and develop the confidence to ask and answer questions.
- employ communicative skills, with a range of styles, and engage in a discussion in an analytical and creative manner.
- identify a topic, organise and structure thoughts and write with a sense of purpose and an awareness of audience.
- understand and use a variety of registers associated with domains such as music, sports, films, gardening, construction work etc.
- use a dictionary and other materials available in the library and elsewhere, access and collect information through making and taking down notes, etc.
- use language creatively and imaginatively in text transaction and performance of activities.
- develop sensitivity towards their culture and literary heritage, aspects of contemporary life and language in and around the classroom.
- refine their literary sensibility and enrich their aesthetic life through different literary genres.
- appreciate similarities and differences across languages in a multilingual classroom and society.
- become sensitive to the inherent variability that characterises language and notice that languages keep changing all the time. It is possible for a student to notice the differences between her own speech and the speech of that of her grandparents.

The knowledge, dimensions and values are necessary to achieve the curricular expectations and should be listed clearly. This will allow the desired learning indicators of the children to be described and will eliminate doubts concerning the development of expected competencies. Curricular expectations are long term goals and cannot be achieved in shorter duration. Broadly these indicate what each child needs to know, is able to do and dispositions need to be acquired over a period of time. Thus they give holistic view of the learning.

Learning Indicators show class wise progression in various dimensions of learning. They facilitate in curriculum transactions/strategies i.e. pedagogy. Learning indicators are based on the premise that learning is a process in which the children are actively involved. Teachers also adapt their teaching as per the children’s needs. From curricular expectations to learning indicators, the long term goal is achieved through short term goals indicated as learning indicators. This takes care of different learning styles & multiple intelligences. Children do not learn the same thing in the same way and they are given multiple opportunities to learn.
Learning Indicators need to be co-related at three stages.

- The teacher starts by identifying the curricular expectations (learning outcomes) that the children will achieve at the end of the course/stage.
- The teacher plans the teaching - learning process – (Pedagogical Process)
- The learning indicators inform the teacher and the children about the processes involved to achieve the curricular expectations/learning outcomes

These goals are meaningful to children also, and over a period of time both the teacher and the children will appreciate and understand how the specific activities/tasks relate to these goals. It enhances collaborative learning. Therefore the pedagogical tasks designed by the teacher need to be challenging, authentic, integrative and interdisciplinary. The teachers’ role in the entire process is that of a facilitator, co-learner and co-investigator.

Listening and Speaking

Listening and speaking are the two dimensions of language which need to be given importance in the teaching-learning process. Though all the four dimensions need to be developed in conjunction, the activities to develop each skill/dimension would be different. However, while the focus would be on one dimension, the other dimensions would also be developed simultaneously. We need to see how each dimension/skill is progressing and is being developed. Therefore, we have developed indicators for each dimension/skill.

- Listening

  Listening is a prime activity in an English classroom. Learning situations need to be created to develop respect and comprehension for listening activities. Listening can include class room activities, school activities, audio/video and beyond the school situations. Listening at this stage is crucial so that the children are able to listen carefully to views put forward, reflect on them, and to respond accordingly. Listening can also play a role in the reception and enjoyment of literary texts; and it is integral to radio, film, television and other media. Appreciation of non-verbal clues also needs to be developed.

- Speaking

  Speaking is a natural part of communication and can be used for learning in pairs, small groups and in large groups. It is a way of expressing feelings and thoughts in a number of different genres, and is linked to writing and reading. It is closely allied to listening. The role of speaking in elementary education and beyond must continue to be significant. Its value is that it reflects more sensitively than writing the range of regional and local diversity. A wide range of spoken situations is possible, even outside school. School events, arranged and assisted by students, can be encouraged. Speech can be used as a rehearsal for writing or a follow-up to it.

- Reading

  Reading covers both seen and unseen types of text. It is closely allied to writing, reading aloud (speaking), speaking and listening. The links between text and image are emphasised, and written texts should be used to allow talk about experiences and feelings as well as about language. Along with the reading of fiction, poetry and play-scripts, information texts, such as maps, guides, menus, advertisements and other ‘real world’ texts such as newspaper articles and online media. There can be variety in the way reading is introduced and taught, including formal teaching in class; small group exploration of texts; reading for information; reading for pleasure; and reading for other purposes. For learners with hearing impairment phonics (sounds of language) should be emphasized in the early teaching of reading when school is started.

- Writing
  Writing is not a mechanical skill; it involves a rich control on grammar, vocabulary, content, punctuation as well as abilities to organize thoughts coherently often using a variety of cohesive devices such as linkers etc. The children should develop the confidence to express their thoughts effortlessly and in an organized manner. Children must be encouraged and trained to choose their own topic, organize their ideas and write with a sense of audience. This is possible only if their writings are seen as a process and not as a product. They should be able to use writing for a variety of purposes and in a variety of situations ranging from informal to very formal. Teachers should make sure that students build on what they have learnt.

- Concern for Environment
  Language classroom can be an excellent source for familiarizing children with our diverse culture and aspects of contemporary life, including gender equality and inclusive education. Language classes and texts have a lot of scope to make children sensitive towards surroundings, people and the nation.

At The End of Class III

At the end of class III learners will be able to do the following: (Learning outcomes)

- Talk about themselves, members of the family and the people in their surroundings.
- Follow simple instructions, requests and questions, and use formulaic expressions appropriately.
- Enjoy doing tasks (including singing a rhyme or identifying a person, object or thing) in English.
- Recognize whole words or chunks of language.
- Recognize small and capital forms of English alphabet both in context and in isolation.
- Read simple words/short sentences with the help of pictures and understand them.
- Write simple words/phrases/short sentences.
Listening

Curricular Expectations

- Understand simple English language spoken in their immediate environment.
- Enthusiasm to listen to English with understanding.
- Appreciate non-verbal clues and respond through speaking / body language.

Pedagogic Processes

Clear lip movement for children with hearing impairment to lip read

- Familiarizing children with day to day spoken English (small sentences and phrases) in class, assembly, playground etc with peers/groups.
- Creating learning situations for using greetings and polite forms of expression.
- Using formulaic expressions such as ‘Sit in a circle.’ and helping children become familiar with these expressions and use them.
- Familiarizing children with the sound system of English through chunks of language such as “an apple” and connecting it with visuals/realia.
- Giving oral instructions for games/activities in simple English.
- Introducing content and devising tasks that encourage children to draw on diverse experiences and make connections with what is worthwhile and important to them.
- Encouraging children to watch English cartoons (Listening and speaking are developing in conjunction) and speak about it.
- Providing input via audio-video/reading out from material and generating interest through pair and group work/role-play.
- Facilitating pair/group work where children share their experiences.
- Providing learning situations such as role play to listen and communicate messages.
- Using picture clips, photos, singing, storytelling, effective questions, music etc.
- Narrating variety of stories from the textbook and beyond, helping children to talk about the main idea. Using a number of facial expressions, dramatizing and picturising stories.
- Asking questions based on the texts, using mother tongue and scaffolding, wherever necessary using role play.
• Reading aloud, action songs/poems, encouraging children to sing collectively (Listening and speaking are connected) using gestures.
• Giving dictation of a few simple sentences to enable children to listen and write. (Listening is linked with speaking/writing).
• Playing music (non-verbal) and encouraging children to express themselves through speech, action, dance, drama photographs, film clips, puppets, comics, displays and singing.
• Drawing attention to onomatopoeic sounds such as a tap-tap, buzz, gr.r.r. etc.

Speaking

Curricular Expectations
- Able to speak English along with home language.
- Able to ask questions.
- Able to recite/poems, say dialogues, phrases from stories/plays, etc.

Pedagogic Processes
- Encouraging lip reading to understand words even without sound.
- Creating learning situations to introduce themselves to a new student/another teacher/a visitor/principal.
- Familiarizing children with new vocabulary as per their context and making them speak. Using pictures, objects, realia, models and wall displays at eye level, large prints and signs.
- Providing input/encouraging for participation in class, morning assembly programmes.
- Providing situations/pictures/images/artifacts to help children speak about them in pair/groups.
- Creating learning situations via-drama, storytelling, group work, role-play/mock-telephonic conversations/conversations between and among family members/connecting it with the characters from lessons.
- Creating learning situations to speak about hobbies, games, food etc.
- Giving a prompt to help children speak “You know, I read a story which goes like this...” “Once my brother played a prank on me...”
- Based on the reading of the text, children are encouraged to speak. e.g. comprehension, connecting to previous knowledge.
- Varying the input as per the special needs of the child with hearing impairment.
- Connecting learning to the real world and encouraging them to ask questions such as: Why can’t we play now?
- Encouraging children to imagine and speak about characters and situations using prompts or pictures to help children create stories.
- Encouraging children to raise queries & ask questions through various modalities like visual, auditory and kinesthetic.
- Providing poems (from textbooks and other sources chosen by the teacher/children from children’s magazines/children’s section in newspapers).
- Providing stories/plays (from textbooks and beyond the textbook).

Reading

They recognize some words in English and make some attempts to read unknown words using initial sounds. They mostly rely on illustrations and teacher support to establish meaning in a text and may not understand everything that they read. While they continue to use early decoding skills, they are not yet able to predict from language context alone because of their yet developing English proficiency. Gradually they can follow and read short, simple texts along with the teacher and in class as shared reading activities.

Curricular Expectations

- Understand the main idea, locate details in the text (seen and unseen).
- Able to ask questions.
• Understands the form and functions of grammar in context.

❖ Pedagogic Processes
• Providing visuals/pointing to illustrations in texts to encourage children to read.
• Familiarizes children with both small and capital letters of the alphabet.
• Facilitating comprehension through various texts/movement/actions.
• Facilitating children to locate details, sequence of ideas and events/identifying main idea through various types of comprehension questions.
• Facilitating children to relate ideas of the text with personal experience through questions and interaction.
• Introducing stories from L1 and L2 to facilitate comprehension.
• Listening to poems, showing understanding through tone, volume and action.
• Introducing different kinds of texts such as descriptions, stories, folktales and poems.
• Providing beyond the text materials such as advertisements, notices, etc.
• Facilitating reading of children’s magazines and children’s section of newspapers and enriching the reading habits through exposure to school library, reading corner.
• Introducing titles of books, movies, etc.
• Encouraging children to raise questions based on their reading.
• Drawing attention towards use of grammar in context and explaining it such as nouns, adjectives etc. e.g. red rose.
• Drawing attention to the use of punctuation through a variety of texts such as use of capital and small case, comma, full stop.

Writing

They develop the ability to use some basic conventions of writing in English. They write texts using sentence structures based on oral structures and very simple repetitive texts. By the end of class III, they are beginning to write their own very short, simple texts.
They write with less need for teacher transcription. Their attempts at spelling depend on sounds. Children begin with one word to phrases to sentences across class levels.

- Curricular Expectations
  - Able to write short, simple texts.

- Pedagogic Processes
  - Facilitating children to form letters and spacing properly.

  - Providing texts (seen & unseen) and encouraging writing answers to comprehension questions.
  - Providing verbal/visual clues to develop words/ sentence/ paragraphs.
  - Encouraging children to write on self, family, pets and home etc. (Giving extra time for children writing in Braille).
  - Providing examples of writing through a variety of examples.
  - Providing examples of words/phrases (linkers) to indicate sequence, such as ‘and’ ‘but’ etc.
  - Providing examples of written texts to familiarize with grammar in context.
  - Familiarizing children with rhyming words, creating rhythm through a poem.

➢ Concern for Immediate Environment

➢ Curricular Expectations
  ● Develop concern for immediate environment (both physical and social) through observation, which leads to development of language skills in an integrated manner.

➢ Pedagogic Processes
  ● Providing opportunities to appreciate nature and drawing attention to its beauty and diversity and providing related vocabulary.
  ● Providing texts/film clips/ pictures/ posters/ models (seen/unseen) related to environment such as poems, stories, etc. thus developing listening and reading, e.g. This is a beautiful flower.
  ● Providing input & encouraging expression in the form of short dialogue, paragraph, poem or song.
  ● Providing a variety of inputs on diversity all around (nature and society) (different leaves, pictures of animals, landscapes, realia etc.) and encouraging peer grouping.
  ● Providing situations to ask questions through topics related to concern for the immediate environment such as throwing garbage in bin, not tearing paper etc.
  ● Providing audio – video input such as posters, children’s films, cartoons, displays, music, songs etc. for facilitating expression, role play, etc.
  ● Drawing attention towards diversity of language, dress, food, festivals etc. and providing new/related vocabulary.

At The End of Class V

By the end of class V children are settling with English. They begin to communicate with teachers and peers in English. They begin to learn the very basic oral English needed to manage learning in an English-speaking classroom. Through their first language experiences, they understand that different forms of language are used in different situations and contexts. They begin to adapt their limited, emerging English language resources to respond to new communicative and functional demands. They recognise the importance of non-verbal communication. They begin to become familiar with patterns in the sounds, intonation, rhythm, grammar and meaning of English.

At the end of class V children will be able to do the following: (Learning Outcomes)
• Narrate experiences and incidents
• Exchange ideas with peers
• Carry out a brief conversation involving seeking/giving information
• Enjoy reading a story, poem, a short write – up a notice, poster etc.
• Take dictation of simple sentences and to practice copy writing from the blackboard and textbook and to use common punctuation marks
• Write a short description of a person, thing or place – prepare a notice, or write a message for someone
• Write a short composition based on pictures
• Take part in group activity, role play and dramatization.

➢ Listening

❖ Curricular Expectations
  • Able to understand simple English language spoken in their immediate environment.

• Using picture clips, photos, singing, storytelling, effective questions, music etc.
• Exposing children to various kinds of spoken texts to familiarize them with tone/stress etc it (Listening and speaking are developed in conjunction).
• Introducing words specific to particular fields through a variety of listening activities, such as sports, cookery, music etc. children appreciate and use them (Listening and speaking are connected).
• Facilitating comprehension through conversation/ interviews with people such as doctors, shopkeeper etc.
• Facilitating pair/group work where children share their experiences such as journeys, visits etc.
• Providing learning situations such as role play to listen and communicate messages.
• Using formulaic expressions/instructions such as ‘Open you books.’ ‘How are you?’ Children listen and internalize these expressions and use them.
• Asking questions based on the texts, using mother tongue or scaffolding, wherever necessary.
• Creating opportunities to read aloud from texts and encouraging children to speak about what they have understood (Listening and speaking are connected).
• Providing situations to expose children to narrations, descriptions, speeches, debates, on familiar topics. They ask questions/make notes. (Listening is linked with speaking/writing).
• Giving dictation of a chunk of a lesson, to enable children to listen and write (Listening is linked with speaking/writing).
• Giving passages for listening comprehension through self reading/audio video support and asking them to answer questions such as MCQs, fill in the blanks etc. (Listening is linked with speaking/writing). Using examples from real life situations.
• Playing music (non-verbal) and encouraging children to express themselves through speech/writing.
• Drawing attention to onomatopoeic sounds such as a tap-tap, buzz, gr.r..r etc. and helping children use them creatively.
• Using non – verbal clues, gestures/comics and respond in speaking and writing.

At The End of Class VIII

At the end of class VIII students communicate in English in routine, familiar, social and classroom situations. They follow and give simple interactions, exchange basic personal information and negotiate known, predictable activities and contexts. They begin to modify their responses and manner of interaction to match the responses of others, and to the context. They use simple sentences and create original utterances by substituting words. Their utterances are characterised by short simple sentences. They use some basic communication and learning strategies to participate in and sustain interaction in English. They recognise that intonation carries meaning, and they listen for key words and for repetition of words and phrases. They use comprehensible pronunciation, stress and intonation. They use classroom resources such as pictures, textbooks, newspapers, magazines, and use specific resources such as parents, community members, mentors, note-takers, readers, interpreters, etc. to facilitate learning.

At the end of class VIII children will be able to do the following: (Learning Outcomes)

- Understand the central idea and locate details in the text (prescribed and non-prescribed)
- Use his/her critical/thinking faculty to read between the lines and go beyond the text
- Narrate simple experiences, describe objects and people, report events to peers
- Speak accurately with appropriate pauses and clear word/sentence stress to be intelligible in familiar social contexts
- Write simple messages, invitations, short paragraphs, letter (formal and informal) applications, simple narrative and descriptive pieces, etc.
- Use his/her proficiency in English to explore and study other areas of knowledge through print and non-print media
• To undertake small projects on a regular basis
• Develop the skill to listen and understand in a non-linear way and make connections and draw inferences.
• Appreciate non-verbal clues and responds in speaking and writing.
• Acquire the ability to listen with concentration, empathy and understanding.

➢ Listening

➢ Curricular Expectations
• Able to understand English language spoken in their immediate environment.
• Listen to English with understanding and enthusiasm.
• Develop familiarity with English phrases used in specific instructions and requests.
• Understand non-verbal clues and respond in speaking and writing.

➢ Pedagogic Processes

Guidelines for users

Curricular expectations/ learning outcomes, pedagogical process along with learning indicators for classes I to VIII have been developed to facilitate teachers/ other stakeholders with the understanding to undertake this exercise holistically. Some general guidelines for users are as under:

- The curricular expectations/ learning outcomes and pedagogical processes in English have been given stage wise i.e. classes III, V & VIII. Within each stage class wise learning indicators have been identified. Learning outcomes are based on the objectives of teaching-learning of English given in the syllabus prepared as a follow-up to National Curriculum Framework-2005 (NCF-2005).

- Within each stage class wise learning indicators have been identified. These learning indicators overlap from one class to other because learning is a continuum, it is an ongoing process.

- In order to achieve these learning outcomes, the necessary pedagogical processes have been given. As language learning is process-oriented and its content has to be derived from child’s real life experience, as per the need and context, pedagogical processes discuss and suggest this aspect at length along with examples.

- Learning indicators have been given class wise in columns, covering all the three stages. A conscious attempt has been made not to provide these indicators in the form of rubric or outcomes based assessment standards. The reason being, by providing assessment rubrics which focus on testing or on product without taking care of child’s process of learning is likely to have ‘wash back’ effects on curricular expectations. Thus these indicators are not summative in nature.

- The learning outcomes, pedagogical processes and learning indicators are not one to one matching. The reason being learning outcomes are to be achieved over a period of time with the regular interaction with children as these are related to child’s abilities, skills, values, attitudes and other personal, social qualities. Thus various processes are needed to achieve the expected learning outcomes. The progress of child’s learning on each process can be seen through some indicators. These indicators are suggestive in nature. Thus for each broad learning process, learning indicators have been given.

- This format would help in implementing CCE more effectively, as CCE needs timely feedback to be given to children.

- Attempts have been made to present the learning indicators in logical sequence, keeping in view that learning is spiral & not linear.

- Till stages III and V, you will find that responses in home language/English have been indicated. That holds true for stage VIII as well.
• It is also suggested that learning activities need to be constructed as a common endeavour in which everybody can take part on an equal footing. The assessment procedures for some children may include more objective items, short quizzes, and provision of extra time, special aids, simplifying and making the child to comprehend instructions, alternative measures like audio-recording and use of computers for giving answers. Diverse grouping needs to be encouraged so that peer group develops as a community of learners who support and increase one another’s capacity. Range of alternative opportunities need to be constructed which are accessible to all with space for learner input to shape experiences and outcomes. Tasks need to be devised for encouraging students to draw on diverse experiences and make connections with what is worthwhile and important to them.

• Use a number of modalities like visual (photos, diagrams, pictures, film clips, wall displays), auditory (storytelling, talking, effective questions, clear sequencing, music, singing) and kinesthetic (using movement, role play, artifacts and use of environment) would help.

• Whenever we initiate teaching-learning process in the classroom, we need to relate it with the children’s previous learning experiences in that specific curricular area. Further, the teacher must observe that many of the learners, especially those belonging to linguistic minority groups may find difficulty in responding to, more so on account of shift from home language to school language/sign language/Braille.
